DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-3, 5-8, 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Lin (US 6,685,344).

Referring to Claims 1-3, 12 Lin discloses (Figs.2, 3) a foldable lamp shade having a shade [10] made of foldable material like cloth (col.2, lines 61, 62) and a support structure including a first ring [11], a second ring [12], a plurality of U-shaped support brackets [40] detachably mounted between the first and second rings.

Referring to Claims 5-7 Lin discloses (Fig.3) that the first ring [11] has a periphery provided with a plurality of substantially L-shaped support bars [23] and each support bracket has a mediate portion [411] detachably rested on a respective one of the support bars of the first ring and having a locking groove [421] for locking a respective one of the support bars of the first ring.

Referring to Claim 8 Lin discloses (Fig.1) that the first ring has a central portion [22] provided with a support portion supported by the support bars [23].

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lin (US 6,685,344) in view of Wu (US 6,386,739).

Lin discloses the instant claimed invention except for foldable support structure.

Wu discloses (Figs. 1, 3, 6) a foldable shade structure. This structure allows to reduce the storage and delivery volume for the device.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art, at the time the invention was made, to provide the device of Lin being foldable, as taught by Wu, in order to reduce the storage and delivery volume for the device.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 9-11 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Referring to Claim 9 the prior art of record fails to show a lamp shade having a support structure wherein the support brackets are connected to the mounting studs of the second ring by the elastic members.

Art Unit: 2875

Claims 10 and 11 are objected as claims depended on claim 9.
